BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Many thanks to the members of the Board of Trustees who have now completed their terms - Tammy Ellison, Melton McLaurin and Bill Singleton; and a big welcome to those members beginning their terms on July 1 - Toni Aberson, Jim Ludwig and Cornelia Maxted.

The new Board will elect its officers at the July meeting, then go into a bit of hibernation for August, during which time Reverend Cheryl is away as well. Work then begins in earnest with an all-day retreat in September, when we'll lay out goals and an outline for the coming year.

Since the goal of the Board is to support the Mission of the Congregation, your input - questions, suggestions, and yes, even criticisms - are always welcomed. Please pass along your ideas on what you think our emphasis should be in the upcoming months; you can recognize us by our lovely yellow name badges or find any of us in the directory. We look forward to hearing from you!

MINISTER'S MUSINGS

I am back from Ministry Days and General Assembly, our annual meetings of Unitarian Universalist ministers and congregational representatives. As usual there were highlights and lowlights. The highlights were many and the lowlights were few. Our General Assembly is a macrocosm of our congregations. All that is right and good about us is on display and all that needs changing is on display as well.

I began the week by attending a Disability Justice seminar. It was most informative. Two things stood out, we took an ableism privilege survey, how many things do we take for granted that people with disabilities cannot? I was unaware of how much privilege I have and how much so many people among us do not. It has made me look at our church in a new light. Are we as welcoming to people with physical and mental disabilities as we think? It is something I'll be looking at in the coming months. The other thing is something our facilitator, Lydia X.Z. Brown, said – we are all capable of doing harm and being harmed, and we all must be accountable for the harm we do. How many times do we do harm, usually unintentionally, with our language, our deeds, and how do we hold ourselves and other accountable? Good questions for all of us.

The rest of Ministry Days went well, with some bumps, and I delivered my last report as President of the Unitarian Universalist Ministers Association. It was a bittersweet moment. We have done good work in the last three years in changing the culture of ministry as exemplified by a change in our language of ministry from “final” fellowship to “full” fellowship. This is a change from the idea of a learned ministry to a learning ministry. We, and I don't mean just ministers, are always learning, we are never done. I am sad to leave the Board and yet it is time for new leaders to bring the UUMA into its next chapter.

The theme of this year's General Assembly was the “Power of We.” This is an important statement for us. Too many times we are focused on individualism, the idolization of the individual, rather than the collective power of We. This is a challenge for Unitarian Universalism. We are attracted to this faith because as individuals we may make and choose our own spiritual path, but often that gets translated to everything we do. As a result, we are not as effective as we can be. And when we focus on the Power of We, it always begs the question of who we mean when we say We. It was moving to see that we are expanding the We all of the time.

Expanding the We comes with it a challenge to those who have a limited view of the We. The conversations we have been having regarding white supremacy culture has been a direct challenge to those who want the We to only include those like them. It was shown in one of the lowlights of the week when a minister self-published a book arguing that our conversations about white supremacy threatens Unitarian Universalism. It was harmful in many ways, attacking not critiquing, people and Institutions. And it showed we have more work to do, to make the We an ever expanding concept.

It was a good week, and a tiring week, and I am glad to be home with you. The week reminded me that our congregation is a part of a much larger faith. That we are not Unitarian Universalism, we are only one expression of it. Over the summer I will get some much needed rest and time to think about how we too can make We and ever expanding concept.

Blessings, Rev. Cheryl

Reflections

Our Religious Education summer program is called Silly Science Summer Sundays. The children are responding enthusiastically to learning about concepts such as density, light refraction and our favorite - chemical reactions. We've walked on eggs (without them breaking), made lava lamps and rainbow kaleidoscopes. We only have a few children each Sunday, but the class is growing .... once a child visits our class, they keep coming back Sunday after Sunday, so I think they like it!

I'm fortunate to have a teenager who likes kids and who needs volunteer hours for school. He's been assisting me in the classroom this summer, since we only had one adult from the congregation answer the call and volunteer to help out. Since he was raised in the UU faith, he's capable of aligning his interactions with the children with UU principles to carry out our search for what is true.

This Fall, unless the trend reverses and people start volunteering to teach, I will be depending more and more on paid childcare providers to staff our Religious Education program. As a UU Religious Education Director, I strongly believe that Non-Unitarian Universalist leaders cannot effectively lead a class with Unitarian Universalist curricula. Just as a World Lit major is unqualified to teach a class in Advanced Algebra, someone who is coming from a non-UU faith, and is not currently on their own path to UUism, is unqualified to teach a UU classroom filled with UU children. Sure, the leader can stick closely to the lesson plan provided, but the value of a religious education class is found in the nuanced discussion that takes place, as well as in the role model behavior found in the UU teacher. It is about as far from rote lessons as one can get.

The parents of young children who are coming to our church are, for the most part, looking for a family experience where they can worship with other adults and their children can worship with other children. They are parents who are dedicated to their children and already devote any free time away from work and other responsibilities to quality time with their kids. They really don't want to teach Sunday school. They want an hour off each week, to speak and think in adult language. As a congregation we should be able to give them this gift, knowing that their generosity will come back to us in other ways.

Our classes this year will be organized by semesters, so instead of committing to an entire school year, you may select either Spring or Fall sessions for volunteering. I'm hoping that this will make it easier for some people to answer the call. Please consider teaching so that our congregation may continue with a Religious Education program for youth.

Shalom,

Leslie O'Connor
Director of Religious Education

GENEROUS LIFE TEAM

Living the Generous Life
“The heart that gives, gathers.” Tao Te Ching

The Generous Life Team was established in the fall of 2017. The original members included: Heidi Kaufman, Robin Middleton, Gary O’Connell, Sylvia Quinn (chair), Bill Stewart, Pat Forrest (Board Liaison) and Rev. Cheryl Walker. In the first year the team developed a mission statement, gathered information and studied stewardship, and planned and implemented the pledge drive. The pledge drive for 2018-19 kicked off with a worship breakfast service that was very well received by the congregation. This was followed by a successful annual pledge drive which resulted in an over 7% increase in pledges.

In fall 2018 the GLT welcomed five new members: Merritt Blalock, Pat Forrest, Sara Jarvis (co-chair) Richard Maxted, and Fran Strauss. During the second year of the GLT we studied volunteerism, planned and implemented cottage meetings to learn more about how our congregation views generosity, honored UUNCNC volunteers each month in the Beacon, and planned and implemented the worship breakfast service and conducted the annual pledge drive. We also thanked the staff for their hard work with a luncheon at Henry’s Restaurant.

In the coming year, we will be adding five new members and the five original members will rotate off the team. This shift was by design as the group determined it was best to limit terms on the team to two years.

After a short summer break, the GLT will be back at work “promoting the growth of a vibrant culture of generosity and giving, one that celebrates the generous spirit in all of us, supports our present and future needs, and explores the many ways we can live generously.” (GLT Mission Statement)

The Generous Life Team (GLT) acknowledges the many volunteers who provide their time and talents to make UUCWNC a special place for each of us to grow our faith.

This month we highlight the work of our Board of Trustees who serve for three-year terms.

The Mission of the Board of Trustees is to create, maintain, and promote policy and vision to ensure that the activities and resources of the congregation are effectively and efficiently directed toward achieving the Mission of the Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Wilmington. ## Full Moon Gathering for July 2019

July's full moon is also known as the Blessing Moon. As the heat of summer intensifies, we slow down. July becomes a time to reflect on our blessings as we weed and enjoy the flowers and bounty of our gardens, meditate as we walk on the beach and in the woods, and engage in dreamwork in the cool of night.

Join us for our July 2019 Full Moon gathering which will take place on Tuesday evening, July 16th, at 7:00 pm at the home of Mary Alice, who will both host and lead our evening's ritual.

All women of any age are welcome to join these gatherings, however the number in attendance will be determined by the hostess depending on how many women she can accommodate. So, if you would like to attend, please RSVP to the Full Moon's email address, fullmoon@uufwilmington.org.

This website can also be used for any questions or for information about the Full Moon gatherings.

Members of this team, and often our wonderful wider congregation, are available to help if you need assistance with shopping or meals during an illness, if you need for someone to take you to a medical appointment (and wait with you if required), or just need someone to visit you at home or elsewhere and listen. Your personal information will be held in the strictest confidence or shared with the congregation only at your request.

If you are looking for a way to make a difference in our community, consider becoming a member of the Caring Committee, or just let us know that you are available to make a meal, provide a ride, or a visit when the need arises. To join or offer your services, please contact any of our members: Carol Anne Davis, Diane Halley, Jeannie Lennon, Jane Linn, Kami O'Keeffe, Jill Pollock, Betsy Randall-David, Tina Schenk and Rev. Members and Friends of the Unitarian Universalist Congregation of Wilmington! -Save the Date(s)!

You may know that our minister Rev. Cheryl M. Walker is now the longest-serving minister in our Congregation's history! We'll be celebrating her tenure with us in late September. We'll have at least two (2) opportunities to celebrate. First - an evening reception on Saturday, September 28th and then a wonderful Potluck Lunch after the second Service on Sunday, September 29th. Plans are also underway for at least one other event earlier in the week, but let's just start with asking you to save that weekend, so you can enjoy some time with us celebrating our Reverend Cheryl. Stay tuned for more information!

Thank you,

Thea Hagepanos and the RCPPT (Rev. Cheryl Party Planning Team!)
